Here is a closer look at how the TPRM component of the Fortress Solution supports your organization.

The Challenge

Third Party Risk Management (TPRM) typically begins with ranking vendors by risk and doing pre-acquisition controls assessments. But in a world where a large enterprise can have tens of thousands of third party relationships, organizations also need a robust process to strategically identify, monitor, prioritize and take action on the highest-impact third-party risks.

The Fortress Approach to TPRM

The Fortress TPRM solution facilitates the development and management of an overall vendor risk management program across the entire lifecycle, with a focus on mitigating the areas of biggest negative impact on the business. Supply chains are validated, suppliers are risk-ranked and assessments are planned and conducted in a way that contextually maps supplier services to actual risks. Using information gleaned from automatic Continuous Monitoring, we map risks according to their criticality to business.

A Comprehensive TPRM Solution

Fortress addresses many common needs around third party risk management by helping customers with a wide range of TPRM capabilities:

| | |
|---|---|
| Program Policy Development | Continuous Monitoring |
| Vendor Inventory and Risk Rankings | Workflow Management |
| Vendor Lifecycle Management | Security Risk Management |
| Business Process Automation (workflows, business rules & other) | Findings Management |
| Compliance | Reduction in time or resource cost to resolve vendor risks |
| Real-time Reporting | Improved coordination and collaboration with external teams |
| Data-Driven Risk Ranking Vendors | Compliance Reporting |
| Vendor Assessments | Maturity beyond scoring solutions alone |
| Remediation | Contract Review |

Advisory and Managed Services

Fortress customers get more than just great technology for managing emerging risk. They get a proven, turnkey solution of technology, processes and people that gives clients the option to buy versus build, avoiding the costly and time-consuming process of finding and retaining talent.

We offer expertise across the whole TPRM lifecycle with a blend of advisory and managed services. Our managed services leverage proprietary continuous monitoring technology for insights that are as seamless as they are rigorous. Our advisory teams are leaders in both cyber security and the industries where security matters most. We provide best practices through groups such as the Cloud Security Alliance, SANS Institute, Shared Assessments, OWASP and other industry consortia.

We hit the ground running with gap analysis, project-oriented consulting and custom implementation to uncover risks throughout your third-party ecosystem. We provide automated, data-driven risk rankings for anything that touches your business — including applications, hardware, cloud services, offshore and fourth-party vendors, reputational risk and financial health.
